

Restores and support the nerves, use as a nerve tonic and to treat shingles; treats lung infections, flu, sinusitis, fights influenza epidemics, strengthens lungs and respiratory system; use on cold sores, genital herpes, viral hepatitis, cuts, wounds, and burns; supports the liver, and treats cholera. Ravintsara is an excellent oil to use during cancer treatments. It will help you treat many of the side effects that are involved with chemotherapy treatments, particularly depression and anxiety. Its antiviral properties also help boost the immune system as it recovers from chemotherapy, treats insomnia, muscle pain, and fatigue associated with cancer treatments.